PHO 351: Photographic Portraiture

A. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Credits: 4

Lecture Hours/Week: 2

Lab Hours/Week: 4

OJT Hours/Week: .

Prerequisites: None

Corequisites: None

MnTC Goals: None

Many people, including photographers, have preconceived or set ideas of portraiture photography. Portraiture encompasses a wide array of styles and techniques that date back far before the advent of photography. This course will cover the proven methods of not only portrait photographers, but all artists who deal with the human portrait. Students will be encouraged to integrate proven techniques with original ideas in the development of their own personal vision.
