Prerequisites:
This course requires the following prerequisite
MHA 692A - Capstone I

Corequisites: None

MnTC Goals: None

Capstone II is completed as one of the final courses in the MHA program. In this course, students participate in a capstone experience in which they are exposed to real-world projects and relationships within healthcare organizations. The experience connects coursework/theory to organizational experiences to allow students to witness the confluence of theory and practice. The student should be wholly responsible for a major project mutually determined by the leader/mentor and the student, under the guidance of faculty. The student develops an executive portfolio conceived, managed, and researched by the student, which requires employing a concept learned and matched to a provider need. At the conclusion of the project the student will present their project findings/portfolio to their mentor and faculty.
