Course Catalog Description: This course is designed to help the citizens of modern society understand the recurring principles, practices, and patterns of politics. Having learned how politics affects our lives every day, students can become informed participants at the local, national, and global levels. Course offered: Fall and Spring Semesters, all years.

LASC/Minnesota Transfer Curriculum Goals:
Goal Area 5: History and Social Sciences
Goal Area 9: Ethical and Civic Responsibility

Course Content: This course will examine both modern and historical American political life from a variety of perspectives. Students will be expected to learn why the United States was formed, what its founders hoped to achieve, and what they wrote into the blueprint for American politics—the US Constitution—as well as how those ideals have been changed and adapted over time to fit a more complex and diverse society. Students will learn about the complex relationship between the states and the federal government in our federalist system and contrast that system with other forms of government throughout the world. We will learn about the four major American political institutions—Congress, the Presidency, the Courts, and the Bureaucracy, and also discuss how ordinary citizens can influence their government through interest group participation, campaigns, elections, voting, and membership in political parties. Finally, we will assess current American policies in such areas as the federal budget process, education, and foreign affairs. Students will also learn how public opinion is measured, how surveys are conducted, and how policy is formed, implemented, and assessed. Questions of race, gender, and economic equality will also be considered in context of all relevant discussions throughout the semester. Format is primarily lecture with class discussion.

Outline of Major Course Content Areas:
1. US Constitution
2. Federalism
3. Civil Liberties
4. Civil Rights
5. Ideology and Public Opinion
6. Political Participation
7. Interest Groups
8. Parties and Elections
9. Media
10. Congress and Domestic Policy
11. Presidency and Foreign Policy
12. Judiciary
13. Bureaucracy
Course Learning Objectives:
1. Students should have a basic understanding of the institutions, influences and processes that make up American government and politics.
2. Students should have a basic understanding of the vital role of citizen participation in American politics.
3. Students should have a basic understanding of the influence of the electoral system of American institutions and policies.

Course Assignments: 4 Examinations each worth 100 points for a total of 400 points. Examinations will be multiple-choice questions and will cover both the assigned readings and the lectures. Exams will be “closed book.”

Grading:
Grades will be determined by the use of a class comparison rubric or “curve” where students’ overall scores will be placed in rank order with deviations between grades determined in part by the overall distribution of scores within a given class. The +/- grading scale in assigning final grades may be utilized at the instructor’s discretion. Periodic estimates of the grading curve will be provided to students throughout the semester after each examination.

Missed Examinations Policy: If you miss a regularly scheduled examination, you have two options:
1) Accept a zero for the exam.
2) Take a make-up exam scheduled just prior to the last two weeks of the semester. Your grade on that examination will replace the missing test in your overall grade computation.

Make-up exams will consist of an alternate form of the exam regularly given to the class for a given section of the course and will probably consist of different multiple choice questions on similar topics, and may contain some essay/short answer questions at the instructor’s discretion. Because I am providing this option for those who miss a regularly scheduled examination, there will be no opportunity to “make up” a regular exam other than this alternative. If a student must miss a regularly scheduled exam for a school sponsored event, alternate arrangements must be made as far in advance as possible and the instructor should be made aware of potential conflicts within the first two weeks of the semester. As a consequence of this arrangement, any student missing two or more regularly scheduled examinations will accept a zero for the second and all subsequent examinations missed, irrespective of the reason cited for the absence. There will be no accepted excuses for missing the final examination. Students may appeal to make-up a missed final examination after the semester ends. Any such make-up examination will be administered at the sole discretion of the instructor and at a time convenient to said instructor. To even be considered for a makeup examination, I need DOCUMENTATION of your absence. Illness, child care emergency, family emergency or significant family commitment are the ONLY reasons I will accept for excusing an absence from an examination and I will require some form of written proof of why you were not in class to take the test.

Attendance: Attendance is required at lectures but roll will not be taken.
Weather Emergencies: We live in a cold and snowy climate. Many of us drive in to work/school every day. This creates the potential for problems with course attendance. For the record, you should note that MSUM’s weather policies are not very forgiving for the commuter. Classes are rarely cancelled even in the harshest conditions. As a result, I am expected to be here to teach when the University deems it possible to have classes. Therefore, if the University is open, you can virtually guarantee (though it is not an absolute certainty) that I will be here for class. I understand that there are times when weather conditions will make it legitimately impossible or impractical for you to attend class. You must use your own judgment in these situations. I will never penalize a student for missing class due to weather related contingencies, including missing an examination due to weather. Your life and well-being are more important than this class. I trust you will not abuse the privilege.

Special Accommodations: Students with disabilities who believe they may need an accommodation in this class are encouraged to contact Greg Toutges, Director of Disability Services at 477-4318 (Voice) or 1-800-627-3529 (MRS/TTY), Flora Frick 154 as soon as possible to ensure that accommodations are implemented in a timely fashion.

Academic Honesty: Students are expected to conform with the requirements of the MSUM student Academic Honesty Policy as documented in the Student Handbook.

Study Guides: Study guides providing key terms and concepts that may appear on examinations will be posted on my website and can be printed out at your convenience. Additional copies of this syllabus may also be obtained at that site.

Make-Up Work and Reasonable Accommodations: Generally, I intend to discourage the practice of “make-up” work or examinations. If, however, you have a documented family emergency or long term illness, I will accommodate in rescheduling an examination. In no circumstances, however, will I give an examination BEFORE a scheduled date.

Reading Assignments/Semester Schedule of Lectures/Discussion: Generally I will cover a chapter in approximately two days of lectures throughout the term.
