

Topic: Custom Header Image

Well as you saw in the tutorial Customizing Themes, you can change your header image to the default images that your theme supports. Using the Custom Header Image option, you can upload any image on your computer and use it for the header image if the theme you are using supports this option.

STEP 1:

If you are in the dashboard of your site, you can click Header under Appearance on the side bar.

If you are on your site, you can click Header under the name of your site at the top of the page.

STEP 2:

Once you are on the custom header page, you will first see a preview of what your header looks like right now. Right below that you can select a new image to become your header. Click Browse and choose a photo from your computer to use as your new header.

Choose an image from your computer:

STEP 3:

When you have found the image you would like to use, click Upload and you will be able to crop the picture in order for it to fit the default size of the header for your blog site.

STEP 4:

Once you are finished cropping it to be the size you would want, you can click Crop and Publish.
